Dear Mrs. Moore,

In many areas of the country, weavers' guilds have formed regional associations. Recently members of the Princeton and Bucks County Weavers Guilds have begun to consider the possibility of regional cooperation among the many guilds in New Jersey, Metropolitan New York, and eastern Pennsylvania. Among the advantages of such an alliance would be the sharing of information, speakers, workshops and other resources, and the organization of a regional weavers conference, which might take place every two or three years.

As an exploratory step, the Princeton Guild will host a meeting of the presidents of area guilds or their representatives, on Saturday, April 26, at 11:30 a.m. at the home of Pat White, 33 Montague Avenue, Ewing, New Jersey.

In anticipation of the meeting it would be helpful if you would survey the members of your group to ascertain their interest and ideas. Please bring those ideas and yours and join us for lunch.

Sincerely,

Carlana Sargent
